Comment : I am in favor of dropping the code requirment for amateur licensing in the United States. To futher perpetuate the hobie if it is dropped there will be an added incentive for more amateur operators on the HF bands. Of corse if someone has an interest in the code there will always be a place for it. I fail to see what benifits there is to forcing someone to learn and pass something that they will never use again, or may even pervent advancing in the hobbie
